

By Library Director Steve Bumgarner

The Library has several new services. First, if your printer is broken or not in service, you're now able to send files to the Library to be printed. Start at the eaglepubliclibrary.org and click on the purple and green image that reads "Mobile Printing Available." Select the printer to be used, enter your email, and upload the file – it's that easy. Then, stop by the Library's print release station and release the files – they'll print right away.

Another type of printing is also now available – 3D! The Library has three 3D printers. If you want to learn to create 3D objects, there are classes available. Check the Library's website. If you want 3D files printed, you're able to upload files through the Library's website. Start at eaglepubliclibrary.org and click on the "Submit 3D Print" button. Complete the form and submit it. Your design will be printed.

On October 4, you'll have access to Lynda.com through the Library's website. Lynda.com includes online tutorials, articles, and books in a wide variety of subjects including technology, software, business, music and video production, and more. Start at eaglepubliclibrary.org and click on the "Research" button, then click on Lynda.com. Log in with your Eagle Public Library card number.

And, finally, through the Library's website, you now have access to Brain HQ. Stimulate your brain, keep it nimble and young, and ward off dementia by doing the short exercises. Brain HQ has received rave reviews, including one from the Today Show (<http://on.today.com/2alwZeg>). Start at eaglepubliclibrary.org and click on the "Research" button. Log in with your Eagle Public Library card number.

There are many programs at the Library throughout October.

- Eagle's Second-Thursday Book Club will discuss Tatiana de Rosnay's Sarah's Key at 6:30 pm on October 13.
- To celebrate Teen Read Week, the Library is hosting three programs: Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children and A Monster Calls : the dystopian game show on Tuesday, October 11, at 6:00 pm, it's two books that are soon to be movies which will be mashed up into the wackiest game show ever; Resdesign a Book Jacket, on Wednesday, October 12 at 6:00 pm in which you'll get to redesign your favorite book's jacket; and 3D Printing, on Thursday, October 13, at 6:00 pm, during which teens will be able to design a 3D object and submit it for printing.
- The Friends of the Eagle Public Library will hold their Fall Used Book Sale on Friday, October 21, from 2:00 pm until 6:00 pm, and again on Saturday, October 22, from 9:00 am until 3:00 pm.
- If you're elementary school age, don't miss the Saturday program No- Carve Pumpkins!, on October 22 at 2:00 pm. You'll get to decorate a pumpkin any way you like!

These are just a few of the many programs offered this month at the Eagle Public Library. For a complete listing, see the library's calendar or the website.